

ASHAWAY AST 5500i

Hot new wheels from Ashaway

If you're looking for some new wheels this fall, Ashaway's new AST 5500i might be a good one to add to your shopping list. Sporting a cool looking leather upper in a dark shade of blue, the 5500i features a very high lacing system to help keep this puppy snug on your foot. The sides of the ankle area are cut comfortably low—for those of you with protruding ankle bones—while the heel rises high off the floor which will help prevent slippage as you explode around the court.

As with other Ashaway shoes, the 5500i features Ashaway's patented Anatomic System Technology (AST) to "increase comfort and stability while reducing foot fatigue." Technicalities aside, this baby's comfortable, and the inside sole forms to your foot. Excellent traction from the rubber sole tops off the features. We suggest you scuff them up a bit when taking them out of the box to rub off the sheen. But then you're good to go.
